Feb 7

MY FLESH AND BLOOD**** A very moving film about a tumultuous year in the life of the Tom household in Fairfield, California. A single mom is managing a vibrant adopted family of 11 special needs children. Exhausting, challenging, a study in self and mutual acceptance. I think it's the kind of film that can change the world! PG13

Tuesday, February 8

Downtown Public Library (Broughton St)

Further strategizing at the pub 9

Last year, many progressives helped develop options for cooperation between Greens and NDP in the 2005 provincial election. The Broad Coalition also surveyed BC voters about cooperation. We will take a look at the most popular options and the results of our voter surveys, and then work together on

In 2002, The Broad Coalition, an

WHY WE ORGANIZED

We envision, and are working for, a positive alternative to another four years of Liberal cuts, selling of our public assets, and privatization. We want to see a commitment from progressive parties to increased economic and social equality, environmental sustainability, and a willingness to work together for the good of BC.

OUR GOALS

Our first goal is to ensure that the progressive vote is not split on May 17, 2005. We are appealing to the Green Party and the NDP to cooperate through electoral accommodation.

Our second goal is to promote progressive platforms in the Green Party and the NDP and ask that they provide voters with a clear alternative to four more years of corporate give-aways, subsidies and tax breaks.

Our third goal is to ensure that the progressive vote is not split even if the parties do not cooperate.

5. ■ GANGES: RIVER TO HEAVEN

The Victoria Independent Film and Video Festival is hosting the North American premiere of Ganges: River to Heaven Tuesday, February 8th 7:15 PM ■ ■ ■ Victoria

Conference Centre.

Produced by Gayle

Ferraro:

□ "One of the finest additions to this year's festival, GANGES offers both a historical lesson on the nature of Hindu spiritual ceremonies and an in-depth examination of an essential aspect of the Hindu life cycle. As elders in India approach death, their families transport them to the city of Varanasi (Kashi), where they live out their final days at the hospice Mukti Bahwan. Upon death, the ceremonies that bring the deceased to the afterlife are respectfully shown in GANGES.

□ From purchasing the cloth in which the deceased will be wrapped, to the acquisition of the wood for the cremation and spreading of the ashes, this rare look at Hindu traditions is unlike any other film of its kind. Here in the Ganges, the dead find Moksha, or peace, which is based on the deeds of one's life, the notion of Karma.

Coming to Varanasi is an essential element of achieving Moksha.

□ Beautiful and lyrically shot, GANGES offers an in-depth look at caste and gender roles in India, and how ceremonies, particularly those in death, are essential for one's peaceful journey through the afterlife. The role of the Ganges in
