The Lower Mainland Social Justice Coalition, along with the Communities Solidarity Coalition from Victoria, are organizing a Provincial conference in Vancouver starting in the evening of april 1 and continuing until Sunday afternoon on April 3

We would like to know what the interest is in the Hurland and on the Island. If your local coalition or fightback group is interested in sending representatives to this conference, which will focus on organizing a Province wide programme of events for May 1, and discussing the ways of maintaining Provincial connections as we run up to the May 17 election, and beyond, please "reply to all" with your commitment and thoughts on this event. If you want to contact us by phone, call Phil Lyons at 604-929-1921.

* The 8th Annual Corporate Piggy Awards will be held April 10th this year, at the Roxy Cinegog, 2 pm. Admission is by donation. Nominees this year include Monsanto, Maximus, Wal-Mart, Hardee's, and Abbot Laboratories, among others. Formal dress optional, pig snouts free.

As you may have heard, the BCSEA is hosting a huge and exciting event at the Royal BC Museum during the weekend of June 4-5 to kick off Enviro Week. It will be the largest promotional event that we have concieved of yet and we have a lot of work to do in the next 3 months. If there is something you would like to do, please drop me a line asap. We are looking for people from all walks of life and all backgrounds, no matter what you like to do, I will find something for you to help with. All I ask is that you donate a few hours of your precious time to show your dedication to the BCSEA and our cause.

* From: Rebecca McMackin <mcmackin@uvic.ca> I am the chairwoman for the Victoria Work Less Party and we are looking for members and even someone to run for the Work Less Party in May. We're also having a "rat race" in May which should be a ton of fun. Anyone who wants to help out or stay informed can join our mailing list at:

At Tuesday's board meeting the University of Victoria Student Society unanimously adopted a motion to switch ALL 8.5x11 paper used in the Student Union Building to ethically-produced 100% post consumer paper! This will include all 8.5X11 paper sold in the ZAP paper store in the SUB building beginning in the new fiscal year!!! ZAP has been severely criticized for selling paper made by Weyerhaeuser and other ancient forest destroyers. This is a great first step! Increasing pressure is being brought on UVic President Turpin to do the same for the whole university, and we will be asking Students Societies at Universities across Canada and around the world to follow suit. Congratulations all around to the UVic Student Society for this precedent-setting decision!!!

EXTRA! EXTRA!

The Green Party of BC (GPBC) now has a media relations officer, Don Toffaletto, who actually ran a news room at a radio station before. So this is his profession.

After Monday's speech by Adriane, taped by New VI, it was exciting to get a rise out of the Liberal government. These guys know we're eating away at their vote. As Don wrote to me: "...we don't exactly have them on the run...but this is a good sign. they're reacting to our agenda through media. fyi.cheersdon

CKNW News Noon March 8, 2005

Energy Minister Richard Neufeld is firing back at Green Party leader Adriane Carr who told a crowd at UVic last night the BC Liberals have missed the boat on wind energy and have become too focused on oil and gas. Neufeld says there are a few wind farms in the works in BC and he points out his government has invested two million dollars in hydrogen cell research.

"All this took place under our administration, not under the last administration I didn't see Adriane Carr talk about wind energy up until just recently so it absolutely amazes me that she's become the expert when she really isn't the expert; she should review what's going on in British Columbia."

Neufeld says BC Hydro has been purchasing energy from so-called, 'green producers'."

Proud to be breaking new ground - check out our NEW tracking tool to record what your MLA is saying about air, water, land, and critters.

- Does MLA Bill Bennett really want BC to build its first coal fired power plant just as Ontario has figured out these plants give kids asthma and is phasing them out?

- Does the Hon. Kevin Falcon really believe that the solution to traffic congestion is more roads, when building more roads always leads to more traffic congestion?

- Will MLA Jeff Bray succeed in getting subsidies for public transit?

potential node for the Regional Trail System. Additionally, the Marsh impacts our local water quality and quantity. It is a tributary to French Creek.

The Friends of Hamilton Marsh are seeking to work with the Town of Qualicum Beach, the City of Parksville, the RDN, Ducks Unlimited, the Nature Trust, the Canadian Wildlife Society, and others, to seek a positive alternative to logging. Ideally the Marsh would be left as a natural or a conservation area.

If you have concerns about the wildlife in the area and/or our local drinking water, which will be under a serious strain this summer, please join the Friends of Hamilton Marsh. A meeting will be held on Wednesday, March 16th at the Civic Centre in Qualicum Beach at 7:00 p.m. (doors open at 6:30) to discuss the issue of the Marsh and the means to protect it.

Date: Wednesday, March 16th Time: 7:00 p.m Location: Civic Centre, Qualicum Beach (Windsor OAP Room).

8. COMMUNITIES IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Invitation to speak out about Land & Water BC WWW.LWBCWATCH.ORG

Concerned residents living near the soon to be sold Crown forest known as the "Lost Trails Wetlands" near Qualicum Bay have invited groups and individuals to come out on March 16, 2005 and join in their opposition to the sale of valuable public lands by LWBC (Land & Water British Columbia, the Crown corporation tasked with selling and leasing Crown lands and waters). The goal is to improve communication between citizens' initiatives, regional governments, and NGOs and allow them to more effectively influence provincial land use decisions.

After 2001, LWBC was ordered to double its provincial revenue contribution to $77 million annually. The corporation's increased sales have created problems in regions like south-eastern Vancouver Island. Here only 5% Crown land exists and this small land base often provides the public with major benefits (recreational, wildlife, aesthetic, clean water, fisheries, ecological diversity etc.).

Citizens have been frustrated by the speed of LWBC's sales, discouragement of public participation, and disregard for public values. In some cases, communities have even been forced to buy back public lands from their Crown corporation.

The March 16th event is triggered by LWBC's impending sale of 183 acres of the Lost Trails Wetlands and the corporation's insensitive public consultation process. Impacted citizens here hope to rally similarly treated individuals and groups, to create a network for sharing information, aid, and expertise, and to better inform the public of LWBC actions and intentions. The following have signaled their interest in speaking on March 16: Ken Wu and Annette Tanner of WCWC (Victoria and Mid Island Chapters), the David Suzuki Foundation, Andrew Gauge of the West Coast Environmental Law Society, the Comox Valley Land Trust, Regional District directors, First Nations, Naturalist Groups and members from various community groups in Courtenay, Nanoose, Parksville, Qualicum, and Shawnigan Lake. The list is growing. Participants and visitors will meet at 10:00 AM at the end of Larkdown Road, at a trailhead into the Lost Trails Wetland forest (The Larkdown turnoff is 200m west of the E&N crossing on the 4-lane, 3km north of the Little Qualicum River). Speakers will begin at 10:30 at a location in the forest that is currently for sale. After speeches there will be an opportunity for questions and the opportunity for a walk to see other threatened areas within the Crown Parcels. The event will conclude at approx 2:00 PM with the launch of the new website.

If you are interested in attending or would like more information contact Ed Jewer (250) 752-1833 or visit WWW.LTWETLANDS.ORG . Please request updates before attending.

10. ETHICS BUYING CLUB First off, a quick update on EBC's March 2nd order. Another successful order with only a few items 'missing in action'. A great big thank you to Judy, Noah, Deb, Jess, Jen, John, Daniela, Rowena, Phil and Dave for helping to make it possible. And thank you to all our members who placed orders - we had an even larger total order than our previous order. We also had some great deals on fresh, organic produce and we're hoping to have lots more produce for our next order! Speaking of which, the next order will be sometime in May (exact date TBA).

Everyone is invited to our upcoming meeting - a chance to contribute ideas and suggestions and to meet other members of the collective. Date: Thursday

March 17th. 6pm (dinner), 6:30pm (meeting), 8pm (finish).

Place

: Green Cuisine (lower courtyard of Market Square). We have the small room next to the cash register reserved for us.

Agenda

1. reflections on March 2nd order
2. ideas for improving order compilation process
3. website plans
4. volunteering
5. EBC vision and future goals
6. other?

Even if you can only make part of the meeting, feel free to stop by. There's a play area for kids in the corner. Hope to see some of you on the 17th!

11. ST. PATRICK'S DAY AT THE COWICHAN THEATRE

The Celtic Rhythm Dancers and the Cowichan Folk Guild are joining forces to present a St. Patrick's Day celebration for all ages at the Cowichan Theatre on Thursday, March 17 at 7 PM.

Talented singers, dancers and musicians will fill the stage with traditional and modern Irish song and dance, weaving together an upbeat tale set within an Irish kitchen party theme. A magical story is told through the eyes and dreams of well-respected local Irish entertainer, Owen Finnegan, a leprechaun of the highest order.

There'll be plenty of shenanigans and charms cast about with ample doses of blarney, laughter, good music and spirited dancing. A ceili is sure to break out at some point. The planned performers to date include Ari and Mack Jonsson and Gabriel Pinchbeck who will be playing some lively jigs and reels, Gaelic singer Mary Murphy who will be accompanied by guitarist Paul Keim (www.maryandpaul.com) - plus the advanced group of the Celtic Rhythm Dancers who will be performing a varied programme of Irish Dance (with even the hardshoes hitting the boards).

Directed by Judy Hogg, a dance instructor in the Valley for over 27 years, the School boasts over 100 dancers who enjoy a non-competitive, recreational environment where the accent is on fun as well as finesse and students enjoy instruction in both traditional and contemporary Irish dance steps in addition to original choreography.

Plan not to miss this very entertaining, whimsical Irish celebration on March 17th. Tickets are on sale now! Adults: $12, Students, Seniors and CFG members: $10 at the Cowichan Ticket Centre or phone 748-7529.

15. THE GLOBAL DAY OF ACTION AGAINST THE OCCUPATION OF IRAQ

ALL OUT SATURDAY MARCH 19TH

Rally at 1:00 pm Centennial Square

Featured speakers: MAJED JARRAR - Currently attending Pearson College, Majed hails from Fallujah, Iraq, the site of the worst American bombing since the invasion of Baghdad. Majed will share with us both the horror and the hope of Iraqis today. He will also impress upon us the importance of the Global Day of Action, as a key way of letting Iraqis know they are not alone in their opposition to the US/UK occupation.

TERI BARCLAY - From Seattle, Teri is a member of the growing Military Families Speak Out, an American organization of people with loved ones serving in the military in Iraq. Her son has recently returned from Iraq. Teri will bring us up to date on the increasing opposition to the war within the US, including inside the military itself.

BILL GEIMER - Now residing in Sooke, Bill held a senior post in the US military in the 1960s, but resigned shortly after America's war on Vietnam began. He remained in the US and gave legal assistance to Americans wishing to file conscientious objector applications, or move to Canada. He will encourage us to put pressure on our government to allow today's American war resisters to remain in Canada.

There will also be musicians and an update on how the Global Day of Action has unfolded in other cities in the world and Canada.

Bring your banners, placards, and noisemakers, and join millions around the world who say "The world still says no to war. Troops out now!"

This Day of Action has been called by the World Social Forum.

Groups sponsoring this event in Victoria include: Council of Canadians (Victoria Chapter), Green Party, International Socialists, University of

Victoria Students Society, Victoria Peace

Coalition, and War Resisters Support Campaign.

For further information or to help organize and promote this event, call 385-3934.

Planning meetings take place every Thursday, 5:00 pm, at the University of Victoria Student Union Building, Room B024 (basement level).

Greetings, We now have 32 listed actions in Canada for the Global Days of action against the war! I have also taken the liberty of adding our events to the global listings which are on the CPA site at: http://www.acp-cpa.ca/en/M19\_21International.htm The international group pulling together the listings is looking for help. If there are any events that you may know of please input the info or send a message to the UK Stop the War Coalition who is hosting the listings. See: <http://www.stopwar.org.uk/march20/> for contact info.

Many of the groups in Canada are calling asking for more resources about the occupation. Lots of people are encountering more questions about the nature of the occupation and some arguments about the elections. We are developing a simple two page flyer with myths and realities of the occupation which will be available by Monday on the CPA site. Please let us know what sort of specific questions you think we should address in the flyers.

Keep those postings coming in to cpa@web.ca

16. HidE & go HoMeLess

A controversial documentary film made entirely by youth that explores the issue of homelessness and poverty in Victoria. Close to five hundred attended the first screening, so it's back by popular demand!

Saturday, March 19, 7 PM At the Movie Monday theatre in the Eric Martin Pavilion South entrance, 1900 Block Fort St. (between Trent Street and Lee Ave)

Parking on Lee Ave. is ok in the 1 hr zone Bus #11 or #14

Map located on <http://www.islandnet.com/mm>

In September 2004, as part of a non-profit agency that addresses issues related to community-based and global poverty, a handful of young people set out to make a documentary film about poverty and homelessness in Victoria. None of the filmmakers had any experience with filmmaking and all of them faced particular issues in their lives that made securing employment difficult.

Despite the film being created on low-end equipment, some of which was found in the bottom of an old filing cabinet, the filmmakers managed to create a professional looking film that was provocative enough to cause controversy even before it was produced. The non-profit agency that employed this particular group of youth felt that the film's political content could jeopardize the agency's charitable tax status. As a result, the filmmakers were given the option to either remove any political content from the film or lose out on its production funding, a value of approximately $1000. Not wanting to weaken the film's underlying message, the filmmakers decided that they could do without the production funding and reached into their own pockets to produce it.

Admission by donation - all proceeds to benefit:

Victoria Street Newz: an alternative not for profit print media that provides a voice and income opportunities for economically marginalized and/or socially disadvantaged people while, at the same time, offering employable skills training and increased self-esteem.

Mask Removal Productions: a not for profit production company that provides marginalized youth with the opportunity to create documentary films about social issues.

Sunday, March 20: RAW Cowichan Valley potluck. For more details contact David.Fern@gems4.gov.bc.ca and see <http://www.islandveg.com/viva-raw/>

Sunday, April 3 at 7 pm: Room 158 in the Faculty of Law Fraser Building, the University of Victoria Student Animal Legal Defense Fund is pleased to announce our hosting of ecofeminist and author Carol J. Adams. She will be presenting her slideshow on The Sexual Politics of Meat. Her presentation will be followed by a book signing and vegan reception. Join us as Carol J.

Adams presents the Sexual Politics of Meat Slideshow that discusses the images of women and animals in contemporary popular culture. The slideshow provides an ecofeminist analysis of the interconnected oppressions of sexism, racism, and speciesism by exploring the way popular culture presents images of race, gender, and species to further oppressive attitudes. It also suggests forms of resistance against the construction of individuals, human or non-human, as "meat." Drawing upon images from popular culture, it answers the question: how does someone become a piece of meat? The slideshow demonstrates how a trinity of interrelated forces--objectification, fragmentation, and consumption--impacts our cultural and personal consciousness about women and animals. For more information please see our website at www.law.uvic.ca/saldf or contact Shannon Elliott at sde@uvic.ca.

Sunday April 17th (date and time tentative): Vegetarian Q&A by dietician Vesanto Melina who is author of Food Allergy Survival Guide, Raising Vegetarian Children, The New Becoming Vegetarian, Becoming Vegan, and Healthy Eating for Life to Prevent and Treat Cancer. For more info or to volunteer to assist email viva@islandveg.com

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

"To STV or Not to STV?" - An Interactive Workshop on the Single Transferable Vote

Victoria, BC - February 28, 2005

Over recent months, British Columbia has quietly been involved in what has been called "the most significant event in Canadian democracy." A group of 160 ordinary citizens were selected to form the Citizens' Assembly on Electoral Reform, and were given the extraordinary task of identifying the voting system best suited to the province.

On March 21, the public is invited to the University of Victoria to participate in an interactive workshop exploring the group's choice: the Single Transferable Vote electoral system. The issue is of critical importance to all British Columbians, who will be asked to vote on the future of BC's electoral system in a referendum on May 17.

The discussion will be moderated by Andrew Petter, Dean of Law at the University of Victoria and former Attorney General of British Columbia. Panelists scheduled to attend include Ben Berger, Professor of Law at the University of Victoria, as well as Citizens' Assembly Members Wendy Bergerud and Diana Byford. All attendees will learn the inner workings of the STV system by participating in a mock election.

The event will take place at 7:00 pm in Room 159 of the Fraser Building at the University of Victoria. For directions, see <http://www.uvic.ca/maps/index.html>.

The workshop is being hosted by the Environmental Law Centre, a student group at the University of Victoria. Admission is free. For more information, please call 250.721.3553. The Environmental Law Centre (ELC) is a non-profit society at the University of Victoria. The primary mission of the ELC is to provide research and advocacy on public interest environmental issues. The ELC has a multi-pronged structure, drawing on the expertise and involvement of students, professors, legal practitioners, and environmental activists. For more information on the Environmental Law Centre, please visit our website at <http://www.elc.uvic.ca/>.

20. EXPANDING WOMEN'S RIGHTS

HSD's Studies in Policy and Practice proudly presents this public lecture "Expanding Women's Rights through the International Criminal Court" by Dr. Louise Chappell, Ruth Wynn Woodward Endowed Chair in Women's Studies at Simon Fraser University (Spring 2005) and Professor, School of Economics and Political Science, University of Sydney, Australia.

Tuesday March 22 HSD A240 - 7pm U of Victoria

This lecture will consider the ways in which women's activists, especially the Women's Caucus for Gender Justice, have shaped the Rome Statute to bring about gender justice under international law. It examines developments in the recognition of sex-based crimes such as rape and forced pregnancy, as well as the move to have women better represented in all the key functions of court.

While the talk will focus on the progress made by women's activists in relation to the ICC, it also points to ongoing challenges to gender equality under the law from religious and state actors hostile to these developments.
