On Friday August 31, Shell Canada will be seeking an injunction in Vancouver's BC Supreme Court to have the Elders of the Iskut and Telegraph communities forcibly removed and arrested by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

This is the latest in the ongoing struggle to oppose Shell Canada's Coal-bed Methane exploration project in the Sacred Headwaters of the Stikine, Skeena and Nass River watershed.

The Elders and their supporters have vowed they will maintain their vigilance over this sacred culturally significant area irregardless of what the outcome maybe. In their words
