

Nearly 900 Gulf Coast hazardous chemical facilities are vulnerable to dangerous hurricanes

Posted by Joan Russow

Saturday, 23 May 2020 16:57 - Last Updated Monday, 25 May 2020 11:30

The Arkema chemical plant near Houston caught fire after Hurricane Harvey in 2017, forcing an evacuation.