Gorilla Radio for Monday, April 25th, 2005

They were singing and laughing in the car, happy to be heading home to Italy. Giuliana Sgrena, correspondent for Italy's 'Il Manifesto' newspaper had endured weeks of mortal fear, not knowing who her kidnappers really worked for, or what they might do to her. Now, less than half a mile from the airport, they were homefree. And then the shooting started.

Danny Schechter on the Sgrena Incident in the first half.

It's no secret, Corporate Canada is a big fan of the U.S. economic model. Who, in business wouldn't back lower wages and benefits for workers? Which among them would oppose tax cuts? The recent history of Canadian business should read as a horror story for any of those quaint old-fashioned Canadians. You know, patriots?

Murray Dobbin on the CEO Sellout of Canada in the second half.

And... Janine Bandcroft at the bottom of the hour to bring us up to speed on all that's good to do in and around Victoria this week.
